Winner of the 2016 Premio UPC. Welcome to Zigurat. The colonies on this mysterious planet have survived in an extraordinarily hostile environment for years. During this time they have undergone an accelerated process of evolution which has turned them into something... different. Now, with the onset of extreme temperatures and under the leadership of the captain of the Royal Guard, they are forced to embark on an extremely dangerous exodus. Their destination is Eden, or is it really hell?

'A story that makes us think, amongst other things, about the social structure we have built for ourselves and which dictates our development, while suggesting alternatives that aren't as crazy as they may seem.' Miguel Barceló
